RESILIENCE
GRATITUDE

If there is anything this past year has gifted us with, it is gratitude. Sometimes we do not understand how meaningful the small things are in life until they are taken away. Those small things were taken for granted but it made us realize how grateful we are for what we still do have and what we lost as well. It made us realize that although there were many hardships, we are still here and for that we are grateful.

Giving thanks and expressing gratitude is one of the oldest concepts in society. It reminds us of how special, beautiful, and blessed our lives are even when we are faced with challenging, stressful, and overwhelming situations. The concept of gratitude is especially important in the midst of a pandemic like COVID-19 when the world around us is unpredictable and sometimes even dangerous. Being grateful is a virtuous quality that allows you to not only see the best in other people but in your own life. Cultivating an attitude of gratefulness also can help build your resilience, which in turn, helps you cope with your current issues or problems and provides a way for you to move forward despite the challenges you face.

Throughout this past year we have been faced with a magnitude of challenges. We have been pushed to our limits and discovered that we have to set new boundaries. No matter the problem, Montclair State has remained resilient. We tried our best to put on a variety of events while keeping everyone safe. We made it through the year and will persevere onward. We learned how to tolerate uncertainty while managing our worries. We remained true to ourselves in the spite of the adversities. We graduated through a global pandemic!

Resilience is not a state of being but a set of skills honed through adversity. To be resilient isn't to go back to being the way one was before. It's to allow oneself to be changed, to see the cracks in the self or the system, let the light shine through and to become (in the words of Hemingway and a million memes) stronger at the broken places.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Class of 2021:

Congratulations! All of your dedication and hard work have led to the much-anticipated moment when you hold your degree from Montclair State University in your hands. I join the faculty and your family and friends in applauding all your accomplishments -- made even more impressive by virtue of your perseverance through a global pandemic to get here.

COVID-19 altered your final year at Montclair State in ways that nobody could have anticipated. You were caught up in what has been one of the biggest challenges the world has faced in a century. The circumstances gave you many unexpected obstacles to overcome and some disappointments as well, but you got past the hurdles and you overcame the heartbreaks. Those experiences have strengthened you, built up your resilience and made you more than ready to set out and make your place in this world, a world that needs your talents and abilities.

You will become the great scientists and the great teachers. You will become the business leaders and grass-roots organizers, the senators and governors, the artists and performers, health-care workers, social workers, nurses and public health experts who will build a healthier, more just, and more sustainable world.

As the world begins to open up again, you will find your future out there waiting for you. Go forth with Red Hawk pride, and seize the day!

With warmest best wishes,

Susan A. Cole

of

Eighth President

Montclair State University

September 24, 1999

"The important question is never ever what we want for the moment, but what we, as individuals and as a collective community, want to have accomplished at the end of our working lives; where, for example, we want this university to stand in 50 years' time; the impact we wish to have made on the progress of society."

PRESIDENT DR. SUSAN A. COLE RETIRES

Montclair State's 8th President, First Woman President

Thank You

The COLE YEARS

- Susan Ablon Cole, the daughter of immigrant parents, her mother from Russia and her father from Ukraine, grew up in New York City's Brooklyn Heights neighborhood. "All my life, I have been driven by a sense of obligation to do right by the world, and I think that is because my parents and their friends talked about it all the time. They had endured enormous struggles, and they were engaged in making a life in a new country, making a life for their children," Cole says during an interview. "They cared about issues, and I listened and I absorbed all of that. I absorbed it with the expectations and the hope that they had for building a life in which they could be free, in which they could live and contribute. It became part of who I was."

- When pressed on what makes her most proud, Cole points to University Commencements and the student success they represent. "I see every year as the students walk across the stage there are more of them, from more programs, from more colleges. There are thousands and thousands and tens of thousands of souls that we have served."

- One of Cole's goals was for Montclair State's student body to reflect the diversity of New Jersey. And it does. Representing virtually every demographic and socioeconomic group, from big cities and small towns, students arrive at a campus that seeks to make everyone feel included and welcomed. "The soul of this university, the very sacred purpose of this university is to create itself as a place where all of our students have the opportunity to fulfill their potential," Cole told students in a video address in June 2020.

- In her fall address on September 9, 2020, her last to open an academic year, Cole said: "I will not tell you, as so many people do when they retire, that it is time to retire because I have accomplished what I came to do. It would not be true. The University is not finished, and I have not accomplished all that I came to do. The University will never be finished; it is organic and ever changing and meant for the ages, not just the decades. … I am not finished, I could never be finished, so, at some point, I just have to stop."

On June 22, 2021, the Montclair State community gathered to celebrate retiring President Susan A. Cole at the rededication of College Hall in her name. Now known as Susan A. Cole Hall, the University's iconic 113-year-old Mission Revival building, which housed the entire school when it opened in 1908, recently reopened after being completely renovated and expanded. "Rededicating the hall in Dr. Cole's name is the most fitting honor the Board of Trustees could bestow," says Francis M. Cuss, chair of the Board of Trustees. "Her approach to renovating this building, which honors its past, while preparing it to serve the needs of the students of today and tomorrow, exemplifies what she has done for the entire institution for the past 23 years."

THE TRANSFORMATION OF MONTCLAIR STATE

"The work that we accomplished together, the things we have built and grown constitute a transformation of Montclair State that is nothing short of miraculous."

VICE-PRESIDENT FOR STUDENT DEVELOPMENT AND CAMPUS LIFE

Dear Members of the Class of 2021:

This year's yearbook theme of Gratitude, Appreciation and Resilience could not be more on point for our current situation. Most of us started last year with optimism for a new decade of the visions of all that 2020 could bring. Well, as we know, we couldn't have been more wrong about what that year would bring and how it would linger into your final semesters.

Despite all of the difficulties, sadness and anxiety we all have faced, we have GRATITUDE for our ability as a community to remain strong and for students to be able to continue their education, learning and growing in the process. The isolation of lock down, business closings and separation from family and friends has let us all come to a new APPRECIATION for what we have as human beings and the power of relationships and joy we receive from being together. Your graduation is a profound symbol of the RESILIENCE you have shown, despite the burden of quickly pivoting to on-line classes, missing out on senior traditions, uncertainty about the job market and most especially an inability to make definitive plans for the future. You have demonstrated just how special you are and how much we admire you.

Congratulations for completing the years of study and hard work that have resulted in graduation from Montclair State University! Completing an undergraduate degree is an accomplishment shared by a very small percentage of the population; cherish your achievement. As you establish yourself in your new life and career, take with you the tools and values you learned from your family and acquired at the University to help you be all you want to be. Continue to aim high. Choose compassion over complacency and prize courage over comfort. Use your imagination, ingenuity and audacity to explore, discover and change a world filled with ceaseless and kaleidoscopic challenges. Become an engaged and responsible citizen. Be a mentor and trusted friend. Embark on new adventures and continue to grow as an educated, ethical and caring person.

This yearbook is a photographic record of an extraordinary period in your life - the good years as well as the last one – the one that we hope will never be repeated. This yearbook will be a comfort in future years and more valuable to you as the years go by. It allows you to look back at your time at Montclair State University and remember all of the great encounters you had during your college years - the people you knew, and the experiences that helped make you who you are today.

As you go out into the world and make your mark, we will be watching you proudly. You join more than 130,000 other graduates who are changing society by applying their skills and talents to their work and families. We are confident you will do the same. The entire administration, faculty and staff salute you and are proud that you are an alumnus/alumna of Montclair State University. You have our sincere best wishes for a happy, healthy and productive future.

Sincerely,

Dr. Karen L. Pennington
Vice President for Student Development and Campus Life
(1998 – 2021)

DEAN OF STUDENTS

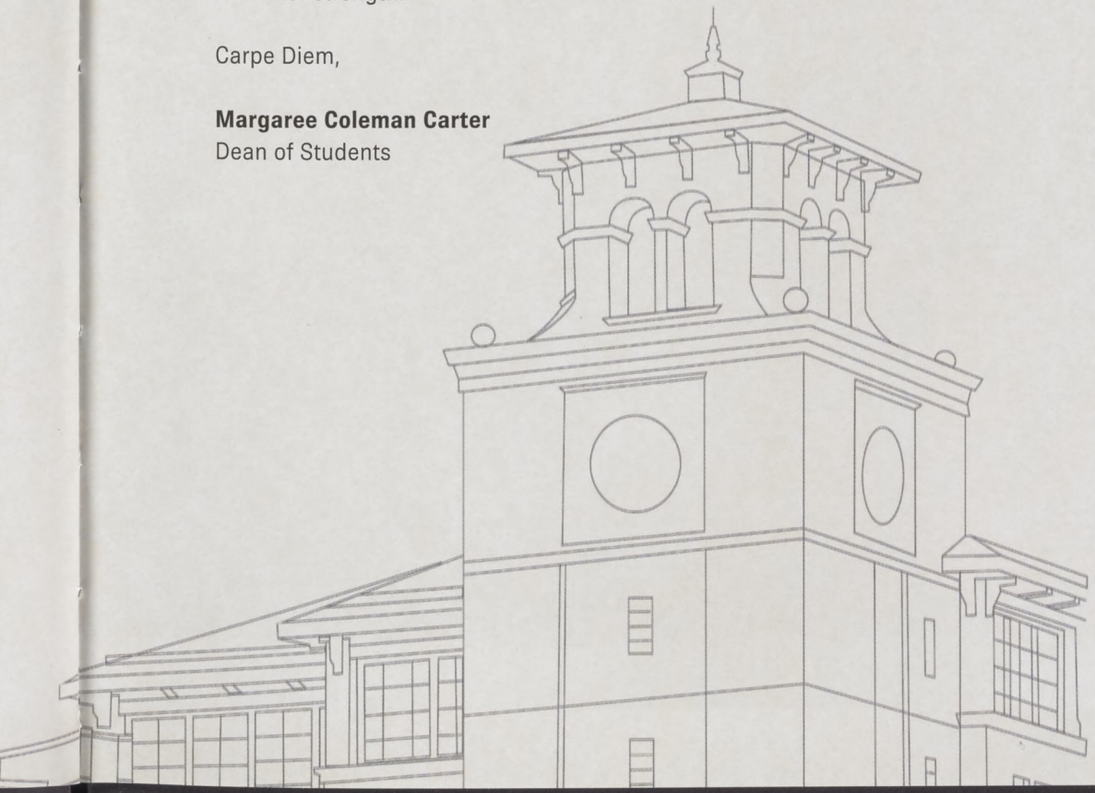
To the Graduating Class of 2021,

Navigating through this past year has challenged the many ways we approach our daily journey. Our day to day existence became our immediate future. It seems the future was placed on hold. For many, our daily lives included words and phrases like, "we are all in this together, new normal, unprecedented, uncertainty, pivot, pandemic, social justice, and violence," which became a part of our daily conversations. Grief and loss were a universal experience felt by most. Whether it was loss of human life, an opportunity, a job, or time spent with family and loved ones, and the list continues, this was a commonalty amongst us.

Although we felt the loss, we managed to seek and find hope in some of our darkest moments. We saw those small glimpses of light which inspired us to keep going another day. Hope became our GPS, guiding us through the belief there was a destination ahead.
MSU Graduates, you arrived at your destination!! Not only did you arrive, but this pandemic brought to the forefront, the gifts that each individual brings to the whole. We have survived many dark nights of this arduous journey and we lived to fight another day.
Hope, appreciation, compassion and resilience are words and feelings we leave here with today. As we endeavor in our personal, social and work relationships, let us appreciate and honor this moment in time, express gratitude and demonstrate resilience through our abilities powered by the spirit of our inner strength.

Carpe Diem,

Margaree Coleman Carter
Dean of Students



Thank You, Dr. Pennington

- Dr. Pennington often described MSU as "a place where you can come and be who you are."

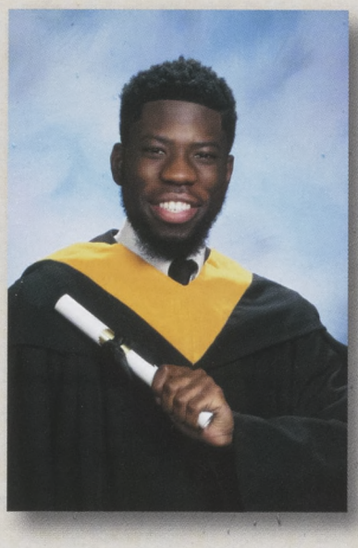
SGA EXECUTIVE PRESIDENT



To the Class of 2021,

What a year it has been for all of us? The journey to get here wasn't ideal. But collectively, we preserved through an unprecedented time in modern history.

Allow me to begin this letter by expressing my gratitude to the Red Haws community for your unwavering support over the past four years, and your extraordinary efforts to ensure that the Class of 2021 prospered during the COVID-19 pandemic. I want to convey my sincere appreciation to all Montclair State University faculty and administrative personnel who worked tirelessly to ensure that we had a fantastic yet successful academic year. I want to also thank every student, faculty, and staff who visited the Student Government Association office to lend a helping hand or to simply say hello. It has been a true honor to serve as the Executive President of your Student Government Association this academic year.

Although our journey at Montclair State University has come to an end, Class of 2021, I implore you to remember the lessons you have learned as an undergraduate student. Take with you all that you have gained from classmates, peers, faculty, and staff, as you now go into the world. And with that knowledge, continue to do your part in creating a better and safer world for you, our future children, and the many generations after us!

In the words of Hannibal, "I will either find a way or make one." Throughout your collegiate career at Montclair State University, you have all either found your way or made one. That is why you are all here today as successful college graduates. As you go through life, therefore, remember to either find or create your way to success. That is how you will elevate above your obstacles and accomplish your every life goal.

Accept my endless gratitude for the countless memories and refreshing conversations with you, my fellow Red Haws community. I will forever be indebted to you for this incredible experience. Thank you also for your support of the Lozin Administration's visions, as well as the platform and opportunity to fulfill SGA's mission as your Executive President.

I congratulate each and every one of you who make up the Class of 2021! Let us express our gratitude to our family and friends who pushed us, helped us, loved us, and celebrated us along this journey. Because of each of you, we are who we are!

Sincerely,

Ernst P. Lozin

VOTING STUDENT TRUSTEE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

To My Fellow Graduates:

Congratulations! We did it! We made it through this year of uncertainty with our futures shining bright. This day has been four years in the making and we finally reached the point for us throw our hats in the air and hold our diplomas in our hands. These past few years have shifted and molded us into the people that stand here today. Although everyone's journey is different, I can confidently say that we are the class that has persevered through every challenge we faced.

Freshman year may seem such a long time ago but let's take a short trip down memory lane. We had just graduated high school and college was the next big chapter in our lives. We were ready to seize the day and that's exactly what we did. We took advantage of every opportunity and made sure that we were seen. Sophomore year we may have made some mistakes along the way but the lessons we've learned made this year vital to our success. We began to decide the path we wanted to take. Whether it was in business, politics, education, medicine, fashion, theater, music, film, etc. we were ready and confident in the choices we made. We took the opportunity to study abroad, join clubs, become eboard members, involved with the student government, took internships, and looked for opportunities outside of the classroom.

Junior year, everything started to feel real. Now more than ever, the decisions we made impacted our futures. We continued searching for more opportunities, studying even harder than before because sooner or later our senior year would be drawing near. And so it's our senior year, we're getting ready for job interviews, graduate school interviews, and the end is finally here. We've taken every opportunity in front of us and it prepared us for this day: Graduation. So to the class of 2021, heres to us!

It has been a pleasure to serve as a voice for you these past couple years both inside and outside of the room where it happens. Where the tough decisions are made. Where we can give the student perspective. So Red Hawks are you ready to seize the day?

The Economizing Problem
People seem to have unlimited wants.
Basics: Air, Water, Food, Shelter...
Once they get the basics,
people typically want more, or better, of other things:
What kind of food, quality of the shelter?
How about a car, jewelry, vacations?

ACADEMICS

COLLEGE OF THE ARTS

Dear Graduates,

Your final year at Montclair State has been … You finish the sentence. I'm reasonably confident that your response is not "This year turned out exactly the way I thought it would when I first arrived on campus way back when." Whatever your experience, whatever the challenges, whatever the ups and downs, it will ultimately shape your life and forge your identity – and, I predict, for the better. Although this has been a time of great uncertainty, it has also provided every one of us with the opportunity to demonstrate unbounded gratitude, appreciation, and resilience. And so, it is not just fitting that we take the time to acknowledge your achievements and celebrate your successes; it is essential.

Please accept my congratulations and best wishes for a future of happiness and fulfillment.

Dean Daniel Gurskis

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN SERVICES

Dear Graduates of the College of Education and Human Services

Congratulations to the 2021 graduates of the College of Education and Human Services at Montclair State University! We are proud of your success and confident that you will take the excellent education you have received into your communities and beyond to make the world a better place.

The focus of all the programs in the College of Education and Human Services, one way or another, is to change people's lives by working to create a healthier, better educated, more just society. Our programs and initiatives are grounded in fundamental commitments regarding the responsibilities and privileges of educators and human services professionals. Our graduates are committed to building a more just and equitable future for the children and families of our region. We encourage all of our students to continuously strive for excellence in their work and to keep their focus on the people they are seeking to educate, counsel, and support. As our graduates leave Montclair State, we know that they will improve the lives of countless individuals in mind, body and spirit.

Our graduates are prepared for careers in education, public health, exercise science, nutrition, dietetics, food science, food management, family and child studies, counseling, and educational leadership. This preparation has come in academic courses and also in high-quality internships in schools, agencies, businesses, and other organizations. Our students have had excellent teachers who have engaged them in active and meaningful learning. They have learned from our skilled researchers, who have engaged students in research—studying issues such as the complexities of sibling relationships, what makes particular foods more or less tasty, or how to successfully teach students from diverse backgrounds and with different learning needs. College of Education and Human Services students have also had access to professional advisors who have guided them through their programs and have given them assistance with internships and career planning.

We are confident that, in the College of Education and Human Services, we have created a learning environment that cultivates well-rounded graduates who are sought after by employers and who will positively impact individuals and communities.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

Dear Class of 2021,

On behalf of the faculty and staff of the School of Nursing, I am extending heartfelt congratulations. We could not be more proud of your accomplishments.
You have stepped up in unprecedented times and shown that when a person decides to become a nurse, they make the most important decision of their lives by dedicating themselves to the care and wellbeing of others.

Your resilience and success are a testament to what you have accomplished and will continue to achieve.

When I reflect on your work and contributions, I am reminded of Clara Barton. As a nurse, she always had faith in the possibility of doing something better. She defied the tyranny of precedent and held true to her values as she eagerly looked for opportunities to improve upon the past.

Congratulations! Go forth and conquer.

Continue to use that same passion and dedication that you have demonstrated in our department in your future endeavors.

Campus Recreation

The Department of Campus Recreation is grateful to our students and the University for your persistence in working together to keep our campus safe for all and continuing to be a part of our everyday programs. There were multiple events held in efforts to band the campus community together such as, s'more making at the fire pit and tie dying in the center.

Health Promotion

This year, many students and organizations were impacted by COVID-19 and the Office of Health Promotion wasn't an exception. However, just like the theme of this yearbook, The Office of Health Promotion was resilient. There's something truly incredible about being a part of an amazing team that collectively worked towards providing our campus with the knowledge and resources to take such a challenging year head on. We are immensely grateful for the people we collaborated with and for the rewarding experiences the Office of Health Promotion gave me.

Office of Social Justice & Diversity

The Office for Social Justice and Diversity appreciates all who have connected with us through our events, social media, or even stopped by the Office. We understand that this year was difficult for many of us but are ever inspired by our community's resilience and persistence. Even in the midst of a pandemic and civil unrest, our campus community has continued to be active, connected, and heard. We are so proud of our community for supporting one another and making it through. Together.

Residence Life

This past year has tested our resilience and strength. The true force that got us all through it is gratitude. Being grateful for your loved ones, friends, and life is a true gift during these hard times. The students of Montclair State University showed their will power, semester after semester, putting their education first. To support these efforts, the Office of Residence Life recognized their role and took it seriously. We prioritized the safety of our residential students and commuter students to ensure Montclair State remained a safe environment to encourage academia, personal, and professional growth. We thank all of the students that helped make this possible as we know this year has been transformative and life changing. Those at the Office of Residence Life are proud to serve the students of the present, past, and future. We hope to continue with the pleasure of watching our students flourish and define the true meaning of being a red hawk.

Team Rocky

Team Rocky is a leadership group on campus committed to spreading Red Hawk Pride, even in the midst of a pandemic. The team showed great resilience this past year as they continued making people laugh and smile virtually, through Rocky's social media pages and in person when applicable. We appreciate Rocky and thank all of his Handlers for what they do here at Montclair State University!

WMSC-FM Radio

Despite these unprecedented circumstances, WMSC has worked harder than ever to continue to grow and work together as a family. In this past year, not only have we learned how to problem-solve and think outside the box, we have also learned how to use time to our advantage. We are so incredibly thankful for all of our driven and determined members who have shown great strength and passion throughout these challenging times. WMSC-FM radio has accomplished more than we ever could have dreamed of, and it would not have been possible if it weren't for all the extraordinary individuals who made it happen. On behalf of WMSC, thank you to everyone who has supported us, and we will do whatever it takes to continue on our legacy and to spread love and happiness to our university.

The 2020-21 school year truly was one unlike any other. Our resilience as a community truly shined as we adapted, united, and excelled despite the challenges of distanced learning. And although we all still have a lot to learn, about navigating this "new normal" and one another, there is also a lot to be proud of. Fleeing from the challenges that came in tandem to creating a digital experience that stimulated interest, creativity, empathy, and innovation was never an option for our ambitious members; from intimate video conferences to exhilarating kahoot competitions, we were able to actively engage with the grander community in meaningful ways. This school year emphasized the ways in which Greek Life is stronger than any distance.

GREEK week

Greek Week is an annual week of events hosted by the Office of Greek Life in the spring semester that brings our community together in a fun and competitive way. Each year a theme is chosen by our Vice President of Programming on the Leadership Team. This year the theme was "And You're Watching Greek Life" where each team was named after a 90s or early 2000s children's show. Greek organizations are separated into 8 teams from all different sub-councils and work together to get the winning title for Greek Week. Each day the teams competed in activities such as Family Feud, a relay race, obstacle courses, a design challenge, and the main event - the Greek Showcase. This year Greeks also competed in a can drive, a total of 2,712 canned goods were collected and donated to the Red Hawk Pantry and Toni's Kitchen. This year's overall winner was Team Rugrats which consisted of Theta Phi Alpha (NPC), Delta Chi (IFC), Lambda Tau Omega (UGC), and Iota Phi Theta (NPHC).

COMMENCEMENT

College of the Arts

CART

"If I was asked, "What is your greatest accomplishment in life?" it would definitely be receiving my Bachelors degree in Public Relations. This has been my proudest moment up to date. In fact, most of my best memories come from my four years here at Montclair. It was here where I gained most of my connections and skills to succeed in the career that I am in now. I am most grateful for my MSU EOF family. If I had not been a part of this academic program, I would not be the person I am today. If I learned anything from the past four years, it is that education is the most powerful weapon one can use to change the world. Congratulations to the Class of 2021 graduates, I am extremely proud of you all. We did it!"

"Any CSAM student knows that no matter the CSAM course it will be far from simple; with its vast amount of content coverage and an unending list of rules and exceptions. These 4+ years are a testament to our hard work, devotion, appreciation, and love for the Sciences. As we now stand together to celebrate our newfound roles as advocates of Science, I am proud that we did it together. Colleagues, students, and professors/faculty that I now call my friends; Congratulations to the Class of 2021!"

"You are not the virus.
You are the cure!"
Dr. Susan Cole

Dear Class of 2021:

When thinking about what theme could truly capture the 2020-2021 year, immediately my mind went to: What effect did the COVID-19 pandemic have on us as a whole? We came back to school Fall 2020, after leaving abruptly in the middle of Spring 2020, unsure of what was to lie ahead. Programming and activities would be different. Classrooms and learning settings would be different. Residence halls and common areas would be different. Did any of that stop us from coming back? The answer is no. We were grateful to come back no matter the conditions or barriers that would be laid out for us. We remained resilient throughout those challenges and continued to persevere against it all. Although it might not have been the senior year we all thought we would have, it serves as yet another demonstration as to how much gratitude and resilience we each carry within ourselves.

Becoming appointed and serving as the 2020-2021 Yearbook Editor in Chief was something I did not think I would be doing during the last few months of my hectic senior year. I am writing to you all a full year later in April 2022 and the yearbook is finally almost ready to go to the printer! I remember looking at my timeline and realizing I only had 3 months to gather all the information I could before graduation. Although the challenge seemed nearly impossible, I accepted. Our class deserved to have a solid memory of such an "in the air" year in the midst of various uncertainties. I did my absolute best in trying to capture and exhibit that memory for us all. My hopes are that when you come back to this book you smile and think to yourselves, "We really went through all those changes and still managed to secure that degree during a global pandemic."

And on that note, I want to wish us all nothing but a multitude of success and blessings as we continue through our long lives with gratitude and resilience. Congratulations and Carpe Diem!

Warmest Regards,

Manuela Paula Alonso
2021 Yearbook Editor in Chief
